EDMONTON BULLETIN, OCTOBER 27, 1892

THE ASSEMBLY.

The impression appears to be general that another session of the Northwest assembly will be called shortly, irrespective of the result in the contest now in progress in the constituency of Wallace, upon which turns the question of control of the assembly by Haultain and his supporters or a continuation of the present deadlock under the auspices of Mr. Cayley. Of course, should Mr. Insinger, who is pledged to support Mr. Haultain, be elected, the continuation in office of Mr. Cayley supported by a clear minority of the house, could hardly be tolerated. And if Mr. Cayley resigned, and Mr. Haultain was called to office a session of the assembly would certainly be called for the purpose of voting the estimates. In any case, however, it is reported that the Ottawa authorities demand the voting of the estimates in proper form by the assembly, and that they will not permit the expenditure to go on under the authority of no one in particular. The point upon which the right of the Ottawa government to interfere is based may be explained as follows: In former years when the Northwest council existed and when the only funds coming before that council for expenditure were those derived from the Northwest itself under the authority of the council (the lieutenant-governor having sole control of funds derived from parliament) an ordinance was passed to provide that if for any cause, the funds for expenditure were not voted by the council in any year the lieutenant-governor-in-council might expend them as they saw fit until the meeting of the council. This ordinance has been continued in force to the present time, and its provisions are those under which the present executive assumes authority to expend without vote of the assembly, both the comparatively small amount derived from the Territories under authority of the assembly and the large amount (in the neighborhood of $300,000) which parliament voted at its late session to be expended for the first time under the express control of the assembly. It is perfectly clear that when parliament proposed to put such a large sum at the disposal of the assembly the expectation was that the assembly and not the representatives of a minority, should appropriate and control it. And now that the attempt has been made by a minority to control it through the assistance of the lieutenant-governor under color of an ordinance which was never intended to apply to present conditions, the Ottawa authorities representing a majority of the parliament which voted the money, are not inclined to recognize the binding effect of that ordinance, and are said to be insisting upon an early session of the assembly for the purpose of bringing the control of that expenditure within ordinary constitutional lines. There is very little doubt that unless something of this kind had been in the wind the Wallace election would not have been brought on so soon after the death of the late member.

LOCAL.

A MOVEMENT is now on foot to export dead meat from the Northwest Territories to China and Japan. Extensive refrigerators are to be established at Vancouver and at Shanghai, Yokohama and Hong Kong, all to be controlled and owned by a company. Most of the cattle are expected from Alberta with Calgary or some adjacent point on the C. P. R. as the killing points. The promoters have received every encouragement from the C. P. R. authorities and all concerned.

WM. RENNICK, wife and family, of Palouse City, Washington, arrived on Monday's train with two car loads of effects, to settle in the Edmonton district. He only heard of Edmonton about three months ago and says that as people learn more of this district they will come in still larger numbers. Mr. Fitzgerald, of Fitzgerald & Lucas, is now in Palouse City in the interests of immigration. The party with which Mr. Rennick came, travelled by boat up the Columbia river to Revelstoke and then by the C. P. R. to Edmonton.

A LARGE number of intending settlers arrived by Monday's train from Washington Territory. The party numbered 43, including seven delegates, all of whom have considerable means. One hundred and seven left Calgary, but a number got off at different stations on the way; thirteen getting off at Wetaskawin. Mayor Lucas, of Calgary, is acting as guide to them. Should they decide to settle here, some will probably stay and make ready for the stock for which the others will return. Another large party is expected next week from Idaho.

LOCAL.

THE constables of "G" division, Fort Saskatchewan, gave a dance in the barracks there, on Wednesday night, which was well attended, several loads of people going from town. They propose giving dances during the winter on the last Wednesday of every month.

THERE is a long article in the Toronto Globe on the "Progress of the West," in which Edmonton is mentioned as a place of great promise. It says that Americans who used to look upon Canada as a snowed up country are now coming in and see for themselves what it really is, and are purchasing land in large quantities in this district.

JAS. ROSS, president of the C. & E. railway, arrived on Monday's train and went out on Wednesday. He was interviewed by mayor McCauley regarding a spur track from the present railway station to the river. He said that his company would offer no objections to a connection being made, that there were no serious engineering difficulties in the way, and that the whole question was one of cost and who would bear it. If the town of Edmonton wanted the spur track and would pay for it his company would be quite willing to build it. The matter rested between the C. P. R. and the town of Edmonton. Arrangements as to operating would have to be made with President Van Horne and Superintendent Whyte. A survey by an approved surveyor was the first step to be taken.

OMISSION.

The following was omitted from the prize list of the Edmonton agricultural society. Special prize awarded to Mrs. Leon Lambert for exhibit of country made fur goods.
